| Item 3. Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct | B. What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have? When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide to you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Granger has established an institutional relationship with Fidelity to assist the Advisor in managing Client account[s]. Clients should be aware that the receipt of economic benefits from a custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may, at times, influence the Advisor's recommendation of this custodian over one that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services. • Employees of Granger may, at times, have a conflict of interest if trading in the same securities for personal accounts. Granger mitigates this risk by requiring its employees to report personal securities trades for review by the employee’s supervisor or the CCO Conversation Starter.
